MORE THAN 3 DECADES AGO WE BEGAN THE CHANGE

Every step added to the momentum of change...
taking Khalsa College forward who can stop the momentum of a turning with the force of many hundred young students.

It was the hard and difficult times
but with every heart beat
there was a flicker of hope,
we pledged to march forward-in the face of the challenge thrown on us both by our friends and enemies.

Many years ago we have tried to take education, religious and cultural knowledge to the door-step of our children with a hope to change their character, their personality and their vision and slowly we began to see the sunrise on tomorrow,
the dawn of hope.

Today, we look to the future
with greater determination and confidence.

We are sure - tomorrow is ours
And no one can stop us from marching forward.

– Ofsted March 2015

Khalsa College London have undergone a review for educational oversight by the Quality Assurance Agency for Higher Education (QAA) and have received its final report, which is available in full at:

www.qaa.ac.uk/en/ReviewsAndReports/Documents/Khalsa%20College%20London/Khalsa-College-London-EO-AM-15.pdf

We have received the following judgements from QAA:

Key findings about Khalsa College London

“From the evidence provided in the annual return and at the monitoring visit, the review team concludes that Khalsa College London has made acceptable progress with implementing the action plan from the June 2014 Review for Educational Oversight report.

The College will continue to build upon the extensive individualised academic and pastoral support it currently provides for its students. This includes an informal open-door policy for students to approach managerial, teaching and administrative staff for help, rather than a formal tutorial system. There is a range of study skill support, and pastoral support is provided by a Student Welfare Officer. The College's Annual Review indicates that additional tuition sessions were provided last year. The issue of support is addressed in staff meetings. There have been developments in the intranet to improve support to students: these include the new Personal Development Planning Guide, which will be introduced to new students at an individual meeting with the Course Coordinator and Welfare Officer, with the aim of ensuring an academic and pastoral focus to achieve their qualifications.”

OTHER GENERAL INFORMATION

Student Diary

This Diary is an important link between students their parents and the College. It is used to record set homework, and contains pages which record the targets agreed between the student and the tutor during academic tutorials.

The Diary is monitored by tutors and senior staff and we ask parents to read and sign it every week (Key Stage 3). The homework timetable is copied by students into their Student Diary.

Reporting to Parents

Parents receive full written reports in all years and a review is sent each term. Parents of students with particular educational needs will receive more information throughout the year.

Reviews give both a predicted and potential grade for each subject. Predicted grades are the grades student could achieve if the exam were taken at that point in their course. The potential grade is the minimum grade the student should achieve at GCSE, AS & A2 level.

These grades are regularly monitored by tutors and subject teachers. Tutors discuss them with students in academic tutorials and set new targets to encourage improvement.

Parents have the right, on request, to see their child's records which are kept on file at the College - and receive reports on progress in relation to the National Curriculum.

Homework

Homework is an integral part of a child's educational programme. It is a time for research, and to complete course work and set tasks.

Please encourage your student's to complete homework, and to understand its importance. If possible, provide a regular work space.

Homework is set according to a homework timetable issued at the beginning of each College year.

Students and their Tutors

Every student belongs to a group under the care of a specific tutor. The student care involves guidance, counselling, activities, registration, and spending some informal time with the group. The tutor is responsible to see that students settle well into their new College environment.

The student has individual contact with their tutor through academic tutorials to discuss important issues including progress and setting targets, and to review career choices.

Moodle

Every student is given a password to the Khalsa College London, Moodle portal, students are expected to visit the site to obtain further course resources, updates and news. The site is secure and monitored.

ICT

The College has extensive networked facilities which include PCs equipped with the latest software, laser printers, scanners and digital cameras.

In addition to the two fully equipped ICT rooms, all curriculum areas and the library are networked and have their own ICT facilities. Data projectors are used by staff and students for presentations.

Students use fast broadband for access to the Internet from all areas to compliment their studies.

Level 7 Diploma in Hospitality and Tourism Management

This university endorsed international qualification is appropriate for both hospitality and tourism graduates and experienced hospitality and tourism managers without a first degree.

It also provides an effective route for graduates in other fields who wish to make a career change into the growing hospitality and tourism sectors.

This is a 1,200 Guided Learning Hour programme where students are required to demonstrate interpersonal, self study and research and presentation skills throughout the qualification. Assessments are developed to encourage skills that will provide students with a very strong foundation for further advancement in the hospitality and tourism sectors.

Students can achieve the guided learning hours in a combination of face to face classroom interactions, attending seminars, visits to hotels, self study and group study, as well as independent study and research work.

The postgraduate Level 7 Diploma assessment methods have been designed to enable students to demonstrate Level Seven outcomes for this level of qualification.

Given the broad and highly varied nature of the hospitality and tourism industry, candidates will need to demonstrate the higher-level skills and qualities specified in the Level 7 outcomes within a non-homogeneous vocational context.

Assessment

Assessment involves investigative assignments, presentations and research activities. The assessment of candidates' work is centre based, against the specified learning outcomes and directed by CTH. To maintain the quality of these qualifications, all centres are expected to demonstrate a robust assessment system. In order to manage the quality of assessment within approved centres, CTH carries out external marking and moderation of assessments.

Programme Objectives

- To understand the interrelationship between the hospitality and tourism sectors.
- To explore the strategic issues in business development, rather than operational level issues.
- To secure employment at senior supervisory/management level.
- To secure progression on to the dissertation stage of a Masters Degree.

Writing exams in College is very different from writing exams in school – you have to apply, analyze and evaluate what you have learned and in many case write much lengthier answers. We will provide you with plenty of exam preparation, all previous exam papers are available as free resources in the Student Common Room, take as many as you think necessary to help you prepare. Check out your awarding body website they also have good 'tips' on what to expect and how to prepare and what support there is.

If English is your second language, we can help with extra English classes spoken and written, and if you feel that you need to brush-up your Maths, then we have teachers who are more than happy to tutor you, just let us know.

PROFESSIONAL COURSES

ASSESSMENTS

Classroom assessments can include a wide range of options – from voice recordings/video presentations through to classrooms observations, some awarding bodies will allow assignments to contain some evidence of recording/discussion on a particular unit. There is one internally set assessment and test each academic term, which allows us to monitor how you are proceeding with your course work.

The two main assessments are Formative and Summative:

Formative: Formative assessments are on-going assessments, reviews and observations in the classroom. The results of formative assessments are used to adjust and confirm instruction is being understood by the student.

Summative: Summative assessments are used to evaluate the success of the course that has been taught, this can be achieved termly with a final review in the last term. The aim of the summative assessment is to make a judgement on the student competency and the students ability to master specific components and raise up issues if any.

These two assessments will form part of the students end of year report
